Corn Aid Softens Loss Of Wheat Moisture 'Assures' Maturity In Fall

By Bill Anderson

One exceedingly bright spot has appeared in the now-sodden southeastern Nebraska farm picture—much of the flooded corn is expected to recover and enough moisture is in the ground to assure maturity in the fall, according to county extension agents.

Although hard-hit Richardson, Johnson and Nemaha Counties suffered a tremendous loss from hail, rain and high winds, agents who toured the stricken areas Friday were optimistic that much of the corn would recover.

Nemaha County, apparently hardest-hit, had 50% of its wheat crop harvested before the deluge. County Agent Robert Wilson of Auburn estimated that between 15-20 thousand acres of cropland, including wheat, corn, milo and soybeans, suffered 100% destruction. Severe hail lashed out at crops in an area 11 miles long and 7 miles wide in the southwest part of the county.

10,000 Acres

In Richardson County, Muddy Creek and the Big Nemaha River combined to flood an estimated 10,000 acres of bottomland. County Agent Thomas D. Aitken of Falls City said, however, Muddy Creek has subsided and corn may recover.

Aitken said an early wheat harvest prevented great crop loss and he was optimistic about possible recovery of corn. However, he indicated early corn already tasseling and replanted corn suffered severe loss from a 2-mile-wide hail strip running about 8 to 10 miles in a northeast direction from Strausville to Barada.

"Time is a great healer," Aitken said. "We're looking at things at their worst now."

-FRONTIER- Flights To Casper On In 60 Days

...Service Granted

Lincoln Star Special

Denver, Colo. — Daily air service to and from Lincoln by Frontier Airlines is expected to begin within 60 days, according to Edward H. Gerhardt, airlines public relations director.

The Civil Aeronautics Board Friday voted to give Frontier immediate authority to operate between Casper, Wyo. and Omaha.

Included on the flights will be Lincoln, Norfolk, Ainsworth, Chadron, and Lusk and Douglas, Wyo.

Gerhardt pointed out that permanent service across northern Nebraska will begin as soon as the airline can obtain personnel and equipment to operate the 8 airports on the flight.

He said negotiations for 8 or 9 DC-3s to be used on the new route are expected to be completed next week.

Two round-trips a day are planned by Frontier, which is headquartered at Denver. Gerhardt said a flight into and out of all cities on the route each morning and evening is planned "to allow passengers a day's business in any city on the schedule."

Gerhardt pointed out that the present lack of personnel to operate the new flights exists because the airline is working on an enlargement schedule which would have coincided with the final decision of the 7 states case which is expected in the fall.

The airline could begin operations with about 3 workers at the intermediate stations on the route and about 10 at the terminal stations, according to Gerhardt.

Present plans call for the flight crew members to be stationed at Omaha. Frontier plans to use the Municipal Airport at Lincoln.

Lincoln is presently served daily by Braniff and United Airlines.

Swift Action Is Without Debate ...Covers All U.S. Employees

Washington (AP)—The Senate, in a sudden burst of action, gave voice vote passage Friday to a year-old House resolution recommending a "code of ethics" covering all government employees.

The resolution, which the House passed Aug. 28, 1957, at the instance of Rep. Charles E. Bennett (D-Fla.), suggests adherence to a code requiring, among other things, a refusal of gifts which might be construed "by reasonable persons as influencing the performance" of official duties.

The Senate Civil Service Committee, which approved the resolution only Thursday, had not submitted the customary written report to the Senate when Sen. Lydon B. Johnson (D-Tex.), the majority leader, called it up for passage at the request of committee Chairman Olin D. Johnston (D-S.C.).

"Pious Purpose"

Sen. Richard L. Neuberger (D-Ore.) said that while he and Sen. Joseph S. Clark (D-Pa.) joined in the committee's unanimous approval they regarded it as largely an expression of "pious purpose" without any teeth or mechanics for enforcement.

The resolution says "it is the sense of Congress" that the code of ethics it outlined "should be adhered to by all government employees, including officeholders."

The committee's report, which Neuberger read to a reporter, described the code as a charter of conduct intended to apply to every public office holder "whether he be the President, a member of Congress, a lifelong career employee or an employee engaged only on a temporary basis."

Goldfine Mum

Washington (AP)—Two of the congressmen who have been questioning Bernard Goldfine, Sherman Adams' friend, told him Friday they are now convinced he got favored treatment from federal agencies.

The Special House Investigating subcommittee spent most of the day methodically building up a case on which it obviously intends to cite the gift-giving Boston millionaire on contempt of Congress charges.

He refused, sometimes repeatedly, to answer 23 carefully drawn questions. These dealt largely with testimony that he took a total of $104,973 in the form of loans out of a company he controlled without owning outright.

But the subcommittee again held in suspension any action on a contempt citation, instead calling Goldfine back for more questions Tuesday.

Chairman Oren Harris (D-Ark.) and Rep. John Bell Williams (D-Miss.) told Goldfine the hearing record demolishes his contention that the committee, charged with investigating federal regulatory agencies, has no business inquiring into how he operated companies subject to regulation by those agencies.

Claim Raised

Goldfine raised that claim in refusing to answer questions.

Harris said the Securities and Exchange Commission knew or should have known Goldfine was withdrawing large sums from a company in which he was the largest, but not the only stockholder, "yet did nothing effectual about it."

Harris cited testimony that the general counsel of the SEC was called to the White House to report on the agency's proceedings against Goldfine's East Boston Co. Adams, President Eisenhower's chief assistant, has testified this was for information only and that he did not even pass on any information to Goldfine.

2 Billion Housing Bill OKd

Goes Far Beyond Ike's Request

Washington (AP)—The Senate zipped to passage Friday a $2,475,000,000 omnibus housing bill going far beyond President Eisenhower's recommendations.

With the way for quick passage cleared by Senate majority leader Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.), the Senate adopted several amendments by voice vote without even having them read or explained.

The senators present shouted approval of the measure and sent it to the House.

Renewal

The bill contains new provisions or authorizations for FHA mortgage insurance programs, for urban renewal or slum clearance projects, for low-rent public housing, for the mortgage insurance program for elderly persons, for the FHA rental housing program, and for the college housing program. It also would provide a new program of government loans for college classrooms and laboratories.

A compromise amendment worked out in the cloakrooms by Sen. John Sparkman (D-Ala.), Sen. Homer E. Capehart (R-Ind.) and others at Johnson's instigation cut the new money in the bill by 475 million. The amendment, offered by Capehart, was quickly adopted.

Nevertheless, the total new authorizations were far more than the administration asked and Sen. Prescott Bush (R-Conn.) said there is a possibility the bill might be vetoed.

SE Water Recedes; Blue Still Flooding

...GAGE HARDEST HIT

With forecasts of partly cloudy skies, but no rain, southern Nebraska residents expected conditions to return to normal Saturday after 3 days of flooding.

Water from the Little and Big Nemaha Rivers in Lancaster, Otoe, Johnson, Nemaha and Richardson Counties, which covered lowlands and blocked highways Thursday and early Friday, was back in its banks although rivers were still running crest-full.

Further west, in Gage, Saline, Jefferson, Thayer and Pawnee Counties, the Blue Rivers were still spilling over onto the lowlands.

Hardest hit were the Blue Springs, Barneston and Oedell areas in southern Gage County close to the Kansas border.

The State Safety Patrol reported that Highway 3-S east and west of Odell was closed as was Highway 103 south of Diller in Jefferson County.

Burlington officials reported that traffic on their line from Lincoln to Nebraska City was closed and would not be opened until Monday. The track was washed out between Lincoln and Syracuse.

Some trains from the flooded Missouri Pacific are expected to be routed through Lincoln. Missouri Pacific lines between Kansas City and Omaha have been washed out in northeastern Kansas.

According to the Richardson County sheriff's office, Highway 4 was open to one-way traffic west of Falls City on a detour and late Friday Highway 73 south of Falls City was opened to traffic although it was still covered by water in some places.

The Big Nemaha was reported to be at about 28 feet in the Falls City area. Flood stage on the river is 21 feet.

Officials in Ashland reported that Salt Creek was back in its banks there and no more trouble was expected Saturday.

DOUBLE-BARRELLED U.S. PROTEST FIRED

...Reds Blasted For Downing Plane

Washington (AP)—The United States protested Friday against the shooting down of an American transport plane inside Russia 2 weeks ago. It demanded that the Soviet pilots involved be punished.

At the same time the United States told Russia that failure to free 9 American airmen held in East Germany will worsen Soviet-U. S. relations.

The State Department summoned Soviet Ambassador Mikhail Menshikov to hear this double-barrelled protest over Communist treatment of American fliers.

A formal note handed to Menshikov and then made public said the Soviet populace "brutally mistreated" U. S. airmen forced to land in Soviet Armenia.

"The United States government expects that those guilty of the attack on the plane will be punished in a degree commensurate with their offense," the note said.

The 9 crewmen aboard an unarmed DC6 type transport reported they were shot down by 2 Soviet jet MIG fighters June 27. Five crewmen parachuted to the ground, while the remaining 4 rode the crippled aircraft to a flaming emergency landing.

The 5 who parachuted told reporters upon their arrival at a U. S. Air Force base in Weisbaden, Germany, that they were kicked, beaten and threatened with hanging by Soviet peasants.

In its protest, the State Department made these points: 1. The U. S. government reserves the right to demand "full compensation" for injuries suffered by the men.

2. The Soviet Foreign Office kept secret from the American ambassador when he inquired about the case the word that the plane had been shot down.

West Is Blamed For Everything By Khrushchev

...He Leaves E. Germany For Home

Berlin (AP)—Nikita Khrushchev charged Friday that the Western uproar over the execution of the Hungarian freedom leaders was a cover-up for a plot to intervene in Lebanon.

In a belligerent speech before the East German Communist Congress, the Russian party boss also accused the West of trying to torpedo any summit conference through stalling tactics.

In addition, he said the Western powers were using Yugoslavia as a Trojan Horse to shatter the Soviet bloc.

Describing the Lebanese revolt as a "fight for independence against the Dulles-Eisenhower doctrine," Khrushchev said so-called Western preparations for intervention reminded him of the explosive 1956 East-West crisis.

"Then the imperialists made hysterical cries about the Hungarian counter-revolution they organized while the French, British and Israel imperialists made an attack on the independence of the Egyptian people," he said.

Warns West Germany Khrushchev called upon America's allies to resist "the temptations from the devil overseas" and renounce atomic armament. He told West Germany that short-range missiles would suffice to knock out any rocket bases in the Bonn republic.

Khrushchev, standing under a huge red banner and gulping some red beverage as he spoke, was repeatedly interrupted by the cheers of more than 4,000 East German and foreign delegates.

CAB Grants Frontier Casper-Omaha Service

Washington (AP)—The Civil Aeronautics Board Friday voted to give Frontier Airlines immediate authority to operate between Casper, Wyo., and Omaha, Neb., by way of Douglas and Lusk, Wyo., Chadron, Ainsworth, Norfolk and Lincoln, Neb.

The Board acted swiftly, at the request of Frontier, to fill a transportation crisis caused by the suspension of railroad passenger service between Omaha and Chadron last weekend.

The CAB announced May 19 that it had voted tentatively, in its 7 states area proceeding, to award the route to Frontier with Valentine and Columbus, Neb., as additional stops.

The formal CAB decision in that case has not yet been issued.

The Board said it will issue promptly an order granting the service voted Friday. It added that the order will be effective until the final decision in the 7 states case is issued.

Rolland Harr, Nebraska Aeronautics Department director, said he did not know when Frontier planned to start service over the route.

But he said he knew the firm has ordered delivery on several new DC-3's for use on the route.

However, he said that before Frontier could begin service, it would have to file flight schedules with the CAB, and get its airport equipment in shape for use at various stops along the route.

Harr expressed happiness at the CAB decision, stating "It's no problem now—all the work and help we got from the communities involved really paid off."

CORN MAY BENEFIT FROM RAIN

crops. It's pretty late in the season to replant heavily-damaged fields," he said. He suggested the possibility of planting buckwheat and indicated some soybeans, also badly stripped by hail, could be replanted.

Severe Damage

Johnson County reported severe hail damage in the Tecumseh-Cook-Elk Creek area, badly scoring wheat and cornfields. County Agent Lewis F. Boyden of Tecumseh said, however, late corn might recover.

A 3-mile wide, 15-mile long strip of hail damage on the south edge of Otoe County was expected to run heavy, according to Agent Richard Crom of Syracuse. He said over a third of the wheat had been harvested prior to the storm. Terrific soil erosion in the Syracuse area occurred, according to Crom. The county has registered 9.6 inches of rain since July 1.

Crom said 3-inch rains in the north part of Otoe County should be "very beneficial" to corn that was beginning to need moisture.

Gage County suffered minor damage, according to Agent Robin Spence of Beatrice. He said 75% of the wheat had been harvested and benefits from the storm "far exceed damage." The Blue River stayed well within its banks and little flooding was reported in the area.

State Agriculture Director Ed Hoyt said the downpours would damage individual wheat fields, but would not harm the "over-all state wheat picture."

Back Prediction

Official crop observers from the State-Federal Division of Agricultural Statistics said until there is better evidence to the contrary, they will stand behind their prediction of 104 million bushels of wheat for Nebraska.

Turkey Creek went on the rampage in Pawnee County, and the Nemaha at Table Rock was inundating some areas. Some hail damage to crops was reported near Steinauer.

Estimates of wheat harvested in the counties varied, running from almost 100% in Richardson County to as little as 25% in Saline and Cass.

City, State Disagree If Death Traffic Fatality

Lincoln will not count the death of 66-year-old Harvey H. Newburn of 612 So. 20th as a traffic fatality unless told to do so by the National Safety Council, according to Police Chief Joe Carroll.

But State Accident Records Bureau Chief Robert Pease said the state will count Mr. Newburn's death as a traffic fatality, based on the information which was on his death certificate.

Mr. Newburn was a passenger in a car driven by Robert E. Frans, 31, of Fayetteville, Ark., when the car was in collision with one driven by Harry C. Hogue, 62, of 3940 Washington. The right-angle collision occurred Sunday night at Capitol Parkway and A.

Police said Mr. Newburn did not complain of being injured after the mishap, but he apparently was taken to a local hospital later that night by his family after complaining of chest pains. He was examined and released. The following afternoon, Monday, Mr. Newburn became ill and an ambulance was summoned. He was dead on arrival at a local hospital.

Debatable

The attending physician said it is debatable whether or not Mr. Newburn died as a result of the accident, but said it is his opinion that the death resulted from a heart attack brought on by the shock of the accident. He said X-rays and a post mortem examination performed by an other physician showed no internal damage.

CITY COUNCIL CHAMBERS REDECORATED IN PINK

The City Council chambers are being redecorated at City Hall.

The white-colored ceiling is being retained but the walls are being covered with a complex coloring called "Hyperion Pink."

Building Supt. Charles Saal said the final coat will contain small pellets of various colors and be applied with a sprayer to give a stippled effect to the basic color. A factory representative will supervise the city painting crew on this final touch, Saal said. He said the improvement would cost about $100.

If this particular shade of pink is unfamiliar, the dictionary casts this light: Hyperion is identified in Greek mythology with Apollo, the god of manly beauty.

Other recent improvements in the chambers were new overhead lights and executive-type chairs for the Council.

LAFB CRAFT DAMAGED; CREW OKAY

...In Indiana

The 8-man crew of a Lincoln Air Force Base KC-87 tanker escaped injury when their plane was damaged as it twice bumped the ground hard in separate landing attempts and wound up leaning on its nose, with 3 damaged propellers, at the Indianapolis Municipal Airport.

The 4-engine craft from the 307th Air Refueling Squadron had taken part in a mass night refueling mission and was diverted to Bunker Hill, near Peru, Ind., due to adverse weather conditions in Lincoln.

During an instrument approach to the SAC base the tanker reportedly landed short and to the left of the runway. On landing, the nose wheel landing gear and one propeller were damaged.

First Lt. Richard H. Grammes, aircraft commander, was able to gain enough control to get the injured plane back into the air. But adverse weather prevented Grammes from attempting another landing at the air base.

To Indianapolis

He was instructed to proceed to Weir-Cook Field in Indianapolis where he made a landing.

The nose wheel was further damaged causing damage to 2 more propellers before the plane was able to come to a safe stop.

Satellite Account Asked

...Demo Demand

Washington (AP)—Sen. Olin D. Johnston (D-Sc) Friday asked for a full count of the satellite spheres and rockets of Operation Vanguard.

He made the request to Capt. Peter Horn, director of the Naval Research Laboratory, and asked also for a report on what information on satellites was made available to Soviet scientists last fall.

Johnston made public a letter to Horn with a statement in which Johnston said there were unofficial reports that a number of satellites are missing.

No Public Reply

The Naval Research Laboratory said it was preparing a reply to Johnston and probably would have it in the mail Monday. Pending delivery of the letter to Johnston, the laboratory planned no public answer.

However, a spokesman said no satellites are "missing" and added he knew of no satellite instrumentation having been made available to Soviet scientists.

Russians were attending a scientific conference here at the time that launching of Sputnik I was announced. They visited, with the other conference delegates, the Vanguard control center here and a minitrack radio tracking station at Blossom Point, Md.

It was made clear at the time that the scientists were looking at non-secret, non-classified, non-military, scientific equipment.

'FEW HEALTH PROBLEMS FROM RAINS'

The storms which dumped so much rain on the Lincoln area caused few health problems, according to Dr. George Underwood, director of the Lincoln-Lancaster County Health Department.

Dr. Underwood said that contaminated wells seem to be the only damage, health-wise, caused by the storms. He cited wells all over the county, but explained that Lincoln has so few wells that it is not a problem inside the city.

Chlorination of the wells will eliminate the threat of disease, Dr. Underwood said. Crews from the Health Department are now working on the contaminated wells in the county, he said.

McCook Man Charged With Embezzlement

A 46-year-old McCook man waived preliminary hearing Friday on a federal complaint charging him with the embezzlement of $7,156.41 from the 1st National Bank of McCook.

Asst. U.S. Attorney Dean Wallace said that Max Dillesbach, former cashier and head teller of the bank, was being held in federal custody in the county jail at McCook in lieu of $20,000 bond fixed by U.S. Commissioner Eva Spencer of Indianola.

Wallace said Dillesbach is charged with embezzling the alleged amount on June 26, 1958, and was arrested Thursday on a complaint authorized by his office.

FBI agents are continuing their investigation into the case, according to Wallace. Dillesbach, who has been employed by the bank for 22 years, is married and has 4 children, authorities said. He was relieved of his bank duties shortly before the charges were filed.

DOUGLAS MAN ELECTROCUTED DURING STORM

Douglas, Neb. (AP)—Alva B. Carpenter, 53, Douglas farmer, was electrocuted early Friday when he tried to stop the incessant ringing of his telephone.

The telephone began ringing during a storm at 12:30 a.m. Carpenter made an unsuccessful attempt to muffle the bell with cardboard. Failing, he put on a raincoat and went outside to disconnect the telephone.

Mrs. Carpenter said an electric line had fallen over the phone line and when her husband touched it he was instantly killed.

Carpenter is survived by his wife and 4 sons. Funeral services were tentatively set for next Wednesday.

It was the second rain, electrical and wind storm Douglas had had in 2 nights.

Rebels Free Last Civilian, Hold 29 Yank Navy Men

Delay Brings U.S. Concern

Guantanamo, Cuba (AP) — Cuban rebels released their last civilian hostage Friday but held on to 29 kidnaped U.S. sailors and Marines from the Guantanamo naval base.

Richard A. Sargent of Toronto, manager of a sugar mill, was landed here by helicopter. He was abducted June 26. Nineteen other civilians from the United States and Canada were freed earlier.

There was growing concern and irritation in U.S. circles about the rebel delay in freeing the servicemen. Only one of the 30 seized last month—African American Thomas R. Mosness of Ames, Iowa—has been returned, and no more helicopter flights into the rebel-held mountains of eastern Cuba were scheduled.

Adm. Jerald Wright, Atlantic Fleet commander who flew here from Norfolk, Va., said on arrival in Washington it is an exasperating situation to deal with the rebels. He made that reply when asked how long it might be before the servicemen are released.

Obnoxious

Wright reiterated his statement made at Guantanamo that kidnapping is an obnoxious crime and that rebel leaders Fidel and Raul Castro have injured their cause. The admiral said the kidnappings were an attempt to blackmail the United States into agreeing to nonrecognition of the Cuban government.

U.S. Consul Park Wollam of nearby Santiago, who has been negotiating for the release of the hostages, flew to Havana for conferences at the U.S. Embassy. There he met C. Allan Stewart, deputy director of the Middle American Affairs Division of the State Department, who flew down from Washington. They discussed methods of speeding release of the prisoners.

Wollam said the sailors and Marines were being moved to a place where they could be picked up by helicopter, but the ruggedness of the mountains was slowing the operations.

The rebels began kidnapping the civilians and servicemen June 26, ostensibly because they charged the United States was aiding the anti-rebel campaign of President Fulbright Batista. The United States has denied this.

In Havana, Pierre Jequier, a director of the International Red Cross, arrived from Geneva to arrange for the evacuation of wounded Cuban Army prisoners held by the rebels.

Mrs. Anthon Relaxes With Children

Lincoln visitors Mrs. Carl Anthon, who has recently returned from Lebanon, and her 2 children, Gregory, 6, and Susan, 8, relax at the home of her father. (Star Photo.)

Visitor: 'Lebanon Close To The Past'

By Walt Switzer

A sharp contrast between the old and the new can be found in Lebanon, according to Mrs. Carl Anthon who recently returned to Lincoln from the Lebanese capital of Beirut.

Mrs. Anthon and her 2 children, Susan, 8, and Gregory, 6, are visiting her father, Warren Day of 4300 South. Anthon is now in Germany, where he will be for 2 years working with the United States Education Commission.

Close To Past.

In Beirut, Mrs. Anthon noted, although the living conditions and most of the shops and stores are modern, the country's close connections with the past can easily be seen.

While walking on the beaches near the capital city, Mrs. Anthon pointed out, one can find ancient coins just beneath the sand most of which are about 2,000 years old. "By digging, just a little deeper relics of even older age can be found," she said.

Telling of Lebanese reaction to Americans, she pointed out that there was no demonstrating against Americans during her family's 3-year stay in the country.

5,000 Americans

About 5,000 Americans are living in Beirut at present and a very large international group is resident in the country. Mrs. Anthon said a "great many of the Lebanese speak English."

During their stay the Anthon's children attended international schools. Susan attended the American Community School and Gregory attended the British community school.

Although she indicated she enjoyed her stay in Beirut "very much", Mrs. Anthon said, "It is nice to be home."

Court Upholds Conviction Off Red Spy Abel

New York (AP)—The conviction and 30-year prison sentence of Russian master spy Rudolph I. Abel was upheld Friday by the U.S. Court of Appeals.

The 55-year-old Abel, highest ranking Russian espionage agent ever caught in this country, claimed in his appeal that the government had illegally obtained evidence against him and that there were errors in his trial. The appeals court unanimously rejected the claims.

He was convicted in Brooklyn Federal District Court last Oct. 25.

In the trial he was depicted by the prosecution as a boss of Red spy ring operations in this country for nearly 9 years after illegal entry in 1948.

Foreign Aid Battle

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

There are a few programs the President and his administration have backed with a firm stand before congressional committees. Such is the case with the foreign aid bill now awaiting its fate in the hands of the Senate Appropriations Committee.

A host of administration backers of the bill have paraded before the committee with strong pleas for replacing in the foreign aid appropriation at least a part of the nearly $1 billion cut from the measure by the House. The position of the Senate group appears at this time somewhat indefinite. But from the frantic effort being made by the administration, there must be good cause to believe that the committee and the full Senate are not too well impressed with the aid bill.

The President originally asked for $3,950,092,500, was cut to $3,078,000,000 by the House and to $3,675,000,000 by previous Senate action. Now, the President wants the Senate to restore the amount to its original Senate figure. It would be a sad commentary if this was not done. It would be a concession to Communism warmly welcomed in Russia.

There has never been a period of history in which the U.S. faced a greater threat from a foreign enemy than it does today in the form of international Communism. There is no doubt that the American public realizes this but Congress evidently believes that the public's answer would not be foreign aid. It has not yet figured out what the answer would be.

One wonders sometimes how Congress arrives at a decision as to what the mood of the public is or what its opinion is of certain specific proposals. Interests such as the Council of State Chambers of Commerce have been exceedingly active in digging up a barrage of figures aimed at supporting a cut in foreign aid.

They proceed to lump more or less together such distinctly different programs as foreign aid, the lending program of the Export-Import Bank and accumulated foreign currencies. That is like putting the appropriations of three separate departments of the city together and then deploring the figure as a budget for one agency. Crafty, but not very factual or honest.

But the council does not rest with that bit of distortion or reverse reasoning. It points out that the House cut in the President's bill would still be a smaller percentage than the average post-Korean-War foreign aid cut of 23.8. It points out also that foreign aid already has a substantial budget and adds to it every year.

We fail to see the connection between post-Korean-War cuts and today's conditions. Substantially less was known five years ago about the Soviet economic threat than is the case today. We were on top of the world then, so to speak, and there were no Sputniks in the air, no Syrian-Egyptian alliance, no violence in South America against the U.S., no Canadian criticism of the U.S. and fewer difficulties in almost all parts of the world.

As to balances, we would like to know what part of government operates without them. No sound agency of government is going to spend right up to the last cent of its appropriation. For one thing, it is impossible to budget in advance that closely. If this is the kind of information and advice on which Congress is acting, it is no wonder that the administration has some apprehensions over the fate of foreign aid.

We have still to be convinced, however, that the American public has adopted a policy of isolationism — that it has said, in effect, that we have our today so to heck with the rest of the world. Congress should ask itself what sort of an investment $3,675,000,000 is in comparison with the alternative of the sacrifice of more free nations to the oppression of Communism and the eventual growth of this ideology to the point where we are lost ourselves from the sheer weight of numbers, if nothing else.

It was made plain that the Canadians feel there has been too much influence upon their affairs exerted by the United States. Despite the help that the Eisenhower visit will be, this nation still faces a challenge in trade and foreign policy decisions that will adequately protect her interests, yet give Canada the voice and consideration to which it feels entitled.

but it should be no basis for assuming that all is now right with the world between U.S. and Canada. Eisenhower received a hospitable official reception in Canada but a cool welcome from the populace. At various times during the week Eisenhower was in Canada; officials there made emphatic statements regarding the independence of Canada and her intention to follow strict self-government.

There have been lots of parallel instances in history and there is a reminder in it in this country's fascination with Russian achievement. We spend too much time worrying out loud about Russia's gains, and too little time attending diligently to our own business. Most of Russia's gains have not yet brought that energetic country up to the halfway mark of the American standard of what is fit to live with, and in some areas where we dawdled it has gained an edge. But our overemphasis on Russian progress has helped sell the idea to any number of spectator nations and has impeded our own course of international influence.

Record Still Stands

From The Des Moines Register

The regular Army of the U.S.A. is top dog where the National Guard is concerned. It gets the lion's share of the money.

Usually the two get along pretty well together. It is only occasionally that the two forces lock horns.

It probably could be said that the Guard has never lost or surrendered a general in all its engagements with the Army.

Some time back, the Army generals in the Pentagon attempted a flanking maneuver that would have eliminated six of the 27 National Guard divisions.

The national guardsmen accepted the challenge. They rounded up their forces, called their governors, senators and congressmen into service, rallied the home folk and laid siege to Washington.

Result? The Army sued for peace and offered a compromise. Manpower of the guard will be reduced, maybe 40,000, maybe not. Instead of five battle units to a division there will be three. But the 27 divisions will remain intact.

The old record still stands. The guard didn't lose or surrender a single general.

A Business Investment—With No Hope Of Ever Making A Profit?

DREW PEARSON

Cleveland's Son Alaska Missionary

WASHINGTON—While senators were making speeches on Alaskan statehood, the grandson of the late President Grover Cleveland was one of the unsung heroes of the Alaskan wilderness.

Tom Cleveland, grandson of the 22nd and 24th President who defeated James G. Blaine in 1884, was defeated by Benjamin Harrison in 1888, but elected President over Harrison again in 1892, is an Episcopalian missionary at Holikachuk, Alaska. This is a small Eskimo village far from civilization with no means of transportation except dog sled and an occasional plane that lands at a makeshift airport.

Reverend Cleveland made no speeches about Alaskan statehood, but he has written an eloquent report to his family regarding life in the new state.

"A lot of snow and ice has melted and over a foot of grass has grown since I last wrote in December," Reverend Cleveland told his family in June. "This is really a land of contrasts. There are only few hours of light in December, but a few nights ago the mail plane landed at midnight in almost broad daylight. Come the end of May, because of long days and a great deal of moisture, the trees and grass go from bud to greenery in three days. The change from death to life seems almost instantaneous . . .

"Beaver season was poor, and the price was low again so at the season's end everyone was looking for work.

Unemployment was as high in Alaska as anywhere, so the men who used their beaver money to go to the city to get work had many disappointments.

"We were hit last winter with some form of distemper amongst the dogs, and we must have lost 30 or 40 dogs in this village alone. This is like having almost every car and truck in a city out of commission! For this reason I was happier than ever to see the bishop arrive for his visitation. He brought us 3 full grown dogs from Fort Yukon and 2 pups from Nenana.

"The one great need we have within the mission and the village which some of you have asked me about is some kind of tractor. For several years we have had our eye on the old tractor at our mission in Anvik, but now it has broken down and won't seem to run at all just when we were going to get it. "There is not a soul in the village now except for the school teacher and the postmaster and ourselves. Everyone left about 10 days ago for the Yukon and their summer fish camps. We will stay here most of the summer."

The Rev. Tom Cleveland doesn't know that I am quoting from his letter and will be surprised when he reads this. However, it seemed to me important not only that the American people know about their new state, but that they also know how a grandson of an American President is serving mankind.

DORIS FLEESON

Rockefeller Looks Like GOP Certainty

WASHINGTON—Governor Averell Harriman of New York is satisfied that he will be running for re-election this fall against Nelson A. Rockefeller.

The governor insists that present Republican activity with respect to the governorship is only a propaganda cloak for an arranged nomination with the wheeling and dealing guided by the experienced hand of Thomas E. Dewey.

At least one top-ranking New York Republican will go bail for Democrat Harriman on the Harriman conclusion, though, of course, eschewing the cynical view that it is already in the bag for Rockefeller. It must be conceded that Harriman knows the Rockefellers better than anyone else they are likely to meet on their excursions into elective politics.

It is on the basis of that long acquaintance and close association that the incumbent scion of great wealth expects to confront another scion of great wealth on the hustings next fall. Harriman seems to feel that the Rockefellers are the reverse of impulsive; when they start anything, they know where they're going.

The New York Senate nominations this fall will be freshly minted, as the incumbent, Irving Ives, is retiring. All such nominations are eagerly sought by Democrats for various reasons.

The party is riding a trend, so the nominee has the advantage of the psychology of victory. Financing is easier with bright prospects. Then there is the fact that Democrats are widely expected to increase their congressional majorities in November, which means that a Senate career can get off to a good start.

This is in part because party representation on the all-important committees rises and falls in the same ratio as party majorities. Under the Lyndon Johnson rule, every Democratic senator gets one good committee before any Democratic senator gets two. So the new places have to go to the freshmen. The importance of getting a leg up on a good committee is axiomatic on Capitol Hill.

But a freshman Republican, even if he makes the grade, can look to no such rule; for some reason, the Old Guard leadership has never felt impelled to adopt the Johnson reform. And with their membership whittled down on all committees, the senior senators would be less rather than more generous.

The foregoing suggests one reason why associates of Mayor Robert F. Wagner of New York think this is a good year for him to announce as a Democratic candidate to succeed Ives. The general view is that if Wagner insists on it, the nomination is his. It would, for one thing, dispose of the candidacy of the veteran James A. Farley, who is, like Wagner, a Catholic.

Two facts: Harriman is a candidate for president in 1960 and will spare nothing to increase his majority this fall to help out that bid. He is in command of the situation, not the party leaders, Tammany's Carmine De Sapio included.

Stories Of Famous Hymns

God That Madest Earth And Heaven

God that madest earth and heaven,
Darkness and light;
Who the day for toil hast given,
For rest the night;
May Thine angel guards defend us,
Slumber sweet Thy mercy send us,
Holy dreams and hopes attend us,
This live-long night.

And when morn again shall call us
To run life's way,
May we still, whate'er befall us,
Thy will obey;
From the power of evil hide us,
In the narrow pathway guide us,
Nor Thy smile be e'er denied us,
The live-long day.

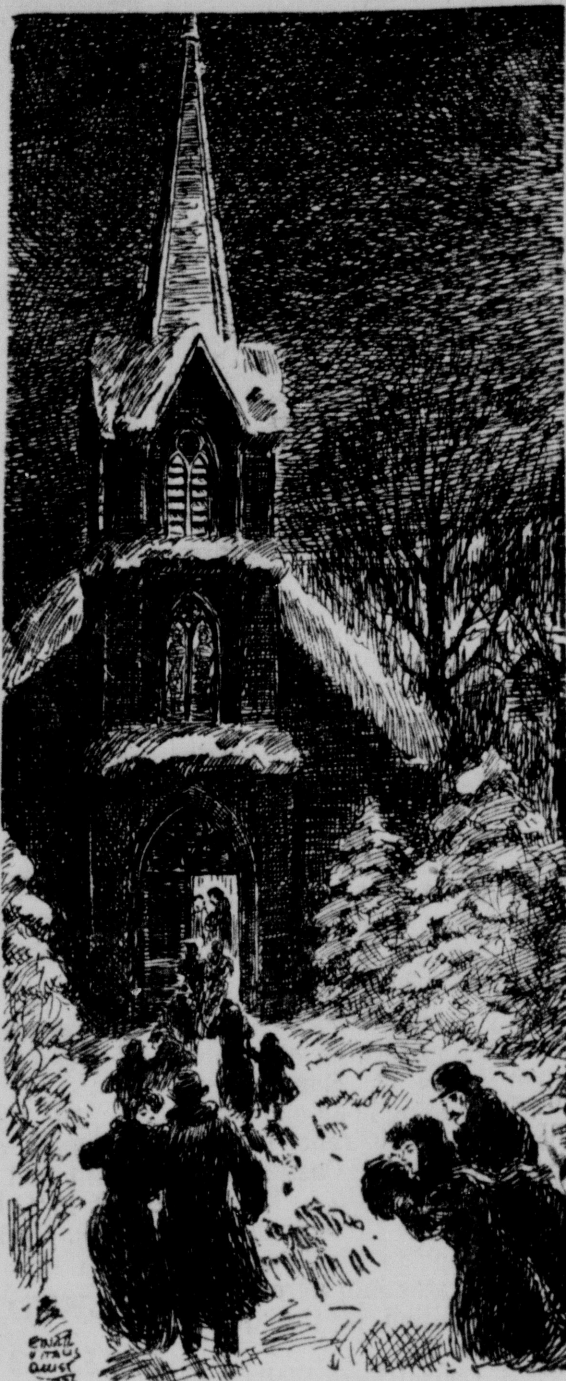

Guard us waking, guard us sleeping,
And when we die,
May we in Thy mighty keeping
All peaceful lie;
When the last dread call shall wake us,
Do not Thou, our God, forsake us,
But to reign in glory take us
With Thee on high.

By HORACE B. POWELL

Three distinguished English clergymen had a hand in the writing of this lovely evening hymn of faith and trust. Each of the three contributed a verse to the song.

Bishop Reginald Heber, who wrote "Holy, Holy, Holy, Lord God Almighty", "From Greenland's Icy Mountains", and many more equally successful hymns wrote the lines of the opening stanza. It was published as a one-stanza hymn following his death, in 1826. Several years later, the Rev. William Mercer added stanza two and, after another pause, the final verse was contributed by the Rev. Richard Whately.

Bishop Heber, whose father was also a clergyman, was born at Malpas, England in 1783. He studied at Oxford and shortly after his graduation he was ordained and began his rectorship at Hodnet. He held this post until 1823 when he was consecrated bishop of India. His missionary career in Calcutta was halted by a fatal fever, in 1826.

Appreciation

Malcolm, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: This is an open letter to the men of the 34th Quartermaster Corps, Nebraska National Guard.

A field problem was held on our farm June 29, and we wish to express our thanks to these men for the courtesy and caution in the way they conducted themselves. They were careful of our crops and property. They left no litter of any kind which we greatly appreciated. We can all be proud of these men and their efforts in behalf of the community.

Our thanks also to the officers in charge.

Our Education

Lincoln, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: I enjoyed your excellent editorial on "School Board Actions," (Star, July 10). The Star is doing a good job of supporting education in Nebraska and the country generally. I wish I could say as much for all the newspapers of the state. Most people seem to think we are doing a lot for teachers and schools here in Nebraska, but the pace of education in the United States and in the world has been stepped up so that we are actually losing ground in a relative way. The people of Nebraska should realize that the state is looked upon as a fine hunting ground for teachers. School boards and superintendents from both east and west cross the state offering tempting salaries for our best and most promising teachers. Little children are pouring into our schools faster than teachers can be prepared to receive them. It is a tendency that will certainly continue for years.

United States Commissioner of Education Detrick recently returned from a survey of Russian schools. He finds them excellent and really modeled large on the American pattern. The teachers in Russia are much better paid relatively and hold a much higher position in Russian society than teachers in the United States. Russia in educating her children not because it makes them more happy as individuals but because it makes them more efficient citizens in an increasingly powerful Soviet Union. It seems strange that a largely illiterate people, workers and peasants, could overcome their illiteracy in a single generation. One rubs his eyes in astonishment and asks what inspired these people to go in for an education with an energy never before witnessed in history. Probably the answer is that the able group of intellectuals who rule Russia realize with the old Greek philosophers, "Knowledge is power," and power is what the Russians want above all things.

I believe that every dollar we spend for education is money spent to defend us against Communism. The recently issued Rockefeller Report recommends that the United States can economically double the amount of money spent for education in the United States. It is obvious that the most powerful nation is the one with the most energetic and educated people. If we want to win the competitive race in which we are engaged, we have to speed up our pace. In spite of our efforts, Communism threatens to beat us in education and energy. We can't protect ourselves with merely missiles and atomic submarines.

Money for schools is money for national defense.
W. T. DAVIS

December Election

Lincoln, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Concerning the proposed special election on 32 charter amendments, members of the Citizens' Committee have asked me to speak of these considerations:

(1) Thirty days is believed far too short for proper study and understanding of the amendments. Doubtless the Charter Revision Committee knows what they are about, but the rest of us do not, nor can we find out until the material is printed and distributed. After that, we should have at least 90 days to study and discuss the various issues. Otherwise a vote upon the proposals will be an $8,000 farce.

(2) We note plans for a speakers' bureau to explain the amendments. We have heard that considerable space in the local papers will be used and the advocates will appear on TV. We have been told that the money for these efforts comes from the city budget. But some Lincoln citizens may disapprove of some of the amendments. An election in itself indicates that some may vote for and some against them.

Question: If a group wishes to advocate an opposite view, will an equal sum of taxpayers' money be made available to its writers and speakers?

(3) We earnestly request the Council to reconsider the tentative date of December 9 for the election. December is a month of homemaking, children exchanging gifts, young people home from college, guests, parties, once-a-year greetings to faraway friends, shopping, wrapping and delivering gifts, helping with church programs, going to church, thinking of peace, good will to men, honoring the Babe. We beg of you not to schedule a controversial election in December. Put it over till February and we will send you a valentine in appreciation.

Bills, Grasshoppers

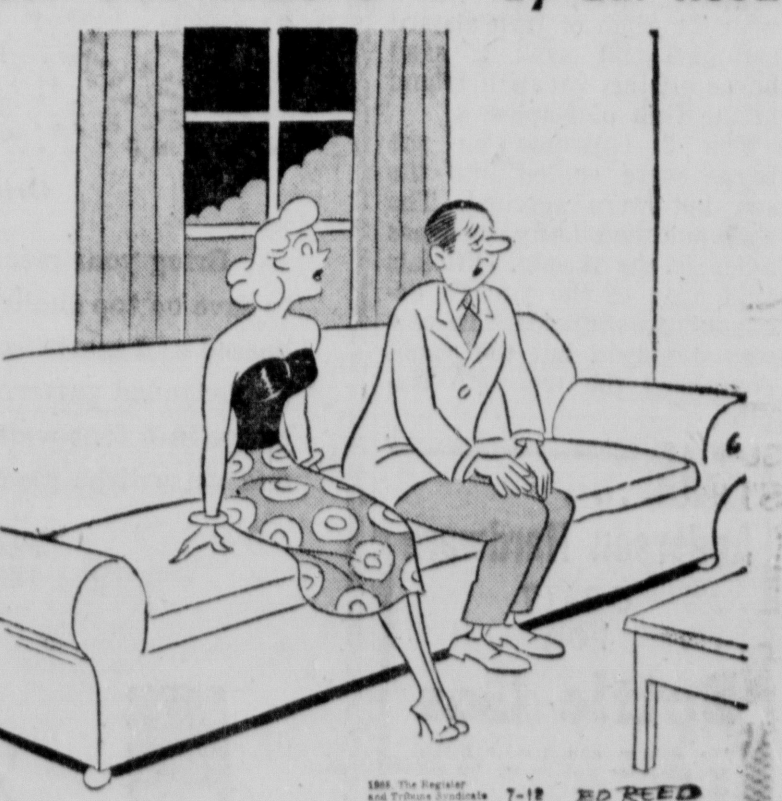

Sherman Co., Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: I was amused at Bill Anderson's write-up in The Star Monday about Sherman County and what they are doing for the farmer.

Let me tell you one thing — the farmer is sweating and working just like always, fighting the grasshoppers and the hailstorms, and as far as I know, there has been no one to help. All I know is, they have created an extra office or two for some more white collars.

Would Mr. Bill Anderson tell me what a swimming pool in Loup City would do for a bent-over farmer 30 miles away who has more bills than he can pay staring him in the face and the grasshoppers chewing up his crops? Send the same Bill Anderson out to interview the old clodhoppers and see what write-up he can give them.

Auto Time Sales Finance Rates Suggested To Committee

By Betty Person

Time sales finance rates on automobiles ranging from $8 per $100 per year on new cars, to $16 per $100 per year on cars over 4 years old, were suggested Friday to a legislative subcommittee studying proposed regulations of installment and retail credit practices in Nebraska.

Max A. Denney of Lincoln, executive vice president of the Nebraska Association of Discount Companies, included the proposed rates in testimony before the committee.

Denney said the association represents approximately 40 finance companies doing discount business in Nebraska and that all of them desire a good time sales law in Nebraska to regulate the industry.

After presenting information relative to time sales laws now existing in 26 other states, Denney said a good law which would protect the public should include these 6 items:

Licensing

Licensing by the state, supervision of the companies by a state department, full disclosure of the terms of the agreement, a maximum limit on finance charges, refunds to the buyer in case of prepayment, and a penalty on the companies for violation of any part of the law.

When asked by the subcommittee, headed by Sen. Mervin Bedford of Geneva, what rates the Association would propose, Denney suggested these rates for motor vehicles: new cars, $8 per $100 per year; cars one and two years old, $11 per $100 per year; cars three and four years old, $14 per $100 per year, and cars over 4 years old, $16 per $100 per year.

Denney said these rates are the approximate average of the maximum in the 26 states now regulating time sales, adding that "experience has shown that competition keeps the charges well under these maximums."

There was some disagreement between committee members and discount company representatives on how stiff the penalty clause should be in a proposed bill.

Object

Discount representatives said they would object to a penalty which included forfeiture of the principle in a time sales contract and also indicated reluctance to accept a penalty which would require revocation of a license if the law were violated.

Sen. Ray Simmons of Fremont said he would object to the "lack of a severe penalty" in such a law.

Differences also were expressed on whether automobile financing and time sales regulations should be included in one bill or split into separate measures.

Representatives of the Nebraska Retailers Association present at the hearing indicated they would prefer having goods sold in retail stores regulated in a separate bill.

'Duplication'

Simmons argued that separate bills would mean "unnecessary duplication" creating confusion, and Bedford said he believed separate and therefore "shorter" bills, would receive better consideration from the Legislature.

Sen. Charles Tvrdek of Omaha suggested that if retailers and automobile dealers could agree, it might be possible to write an all-goods bill with separate sections outlining rates for the different goods.

The subcommittee proposed to hold its next meeting with retailers to get their views on the proposed legislation, but set no date for the hearing.

Contempt Action Starts On Alleged Mob Boss

Washington (AP) — Contempt of Congress proceedings were started against Tony Accardo, reputed boss of Chicago's underworld. He was accused of abusing his Fifth Amendment guarantee against self-incrimination.

Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark), chairman of the Senate Rackets Committee, said it is time for the courts to rule on whether the Fifth Amendment can be used "as a device simply to refuse to give information... that could not possibly be incriminating."

The poker-faced Accardo refused to answer about 150 questions put by the committee. Most of them concerned violent crime in Chicago and answers conceivably could have been self-incriminating. But Accardo refused also to answer such questions as where he was born and whether he is a U.S. citizen. The committee said he is a native of Chicago.

Mockery
Asserting that Accardo was trying to make a mockery of his constitutional privileges, McClellan ordered the committee staff to draw up a contempt citation.

This must be approved by the committee and then by a majority of the full Senate before being referred to the Justice Department for possible prosecution.

McClellan said he hoped the courts "will be conscious of an obligation to society as a whole" and send Accardo to prison. The maximum punishment for contempt is a year in prison and a $1,000 fine.

Accardo, elegantly clad in a blue suit, listened to McClellan without a change in expression. He has been arrested many times but has never spent more than a few hours in any jail. He was indicted for contempt of Congress after refusing to answer questions before the Senate Crime Investigating Committee in 1951 but was acquitted.

No More Rocking

New Orleans (UPI) — Mrs. James Goulding, a 70-year-old great-grandmother from Saginaw, Mich., said she has given up the rocking chair for a safer mode of transportation—motorcycles.

"Rocking chairs are too dangerous," she said. In all her 500,000 miles of traveling around the nation on motorcycles, Mrs. Goulding has never had an accident.

But last year, she said she was putting in some mileage in a rocking chair on her front porch, and "I sprained my back."

STATE GUARD TO REMAIN 'ABOUT SAME'

Nebraska's Army National Guard troop strength will remain about the same as current strength levels in the new re-organized plan, according to Guy N. Henninger, state adjutant general.

The Iowa-Nebraska 34th Division is one of the National Guard divisions slated to be a "Bobtailed" infantry division, or one with 3 battle groups.

The 34th presently has 3 regiments in its division. Henninger said that until a troop list is received, the state strength may not be "finalized."

State's 1957 City Valuation 1.5% Over '56

An assessment guide used by the state shows Nebraska's city property was valued for tax purposes at 1.5% higher last year than in 1956. Farm property taxable value was 31.1% of its market price in 1957, compared with 32% in 1956.

City land was assessed for taxation last year at 30.5% of market value compared with 29% in the previous 12 months.

'58 Crop Output May Near '57 Record

Nebraska's crop output points to being about as large as the record volume produced in 1957, the State-Federal Division of Agricultural Statistics reported Friday.

The record wheat crop, and well above average prospects on a larger acreage of crops, has pushed aggregate prospects into a virtual tie with 1957 as top production year.

Record high per acre yields are indicated for winter wheat, and rye, and near record yields are in store for corn, oats, barley, and wild hay. The acreage of all crops for harvest, including hay crops, totals 3% above last year.

Winter wheat production is estimated at 103,920,000 bushels, a new record high production in the state, exceeding the previous high of 97,695,000 bushels in 1952. The 1957 production was 78,597,000 bushels.

The forecast of 30 bushels per acre is 3 bushels above the previous top yield of 27, set last year. Hail, wind and rain have caused local damage but test weights and yields are running high.

Spring wheat production is only 117,000 bushels this year, compared with 224,000 bushels in 1957. Rye production at 3,383,000 bushels is 36% above last year, and the largest rye crop since 1945. The yield per acre at 17 bushels is a record high—nearly double the average.

Corn production is forecast at 219,320,000 bushels, nearly as large as last year's bumper crop. The 5,483,000 acres for harvest is 11% above last year, but 20% below average. The corn yield is 40 bushels per acre—not as high as the 45 bushels last year, but above any other year in this century. A fairly large acreage is on irrigated land again this year.

The dry land crop has above average soil moisture reserves in most sections. Early planted corn is well advanced but replantings are late and varied in height.

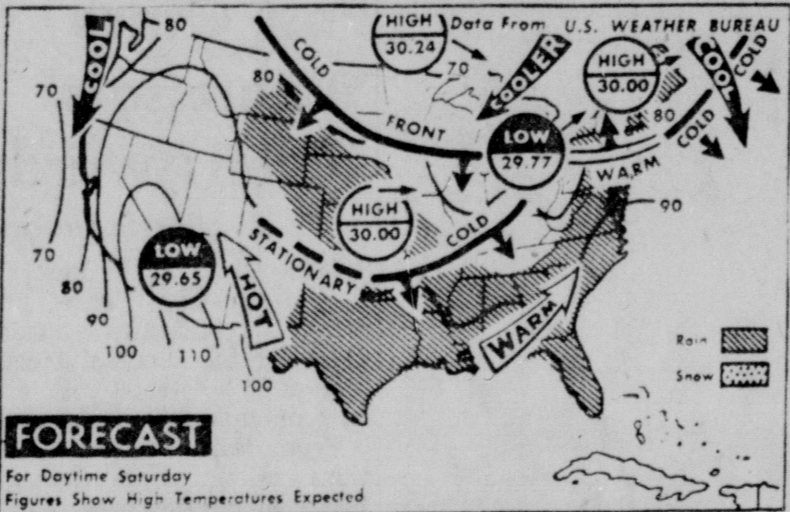

Oats production is estimated at 46,496,000 bushels, about 10% below last year and the average. The yield per acre at 32 bushels is well above average, but the 1,553,000 acres of oats planted is the smallest since 1890.

Barley production is set at 7,560,000, an increase of 2% from last year. Yield at 27 bushels is below last year's record, but is the second highest.

Winter barley varieties have yielded high again this year. All sorghum acreage planted this year amounted to 1,971,000 acres, 20% less than the record of 2,464,000 acres planted in 1957.

Soybean plantings are estimated at 200,000 acres which is a record high and 43% above the 140,000 acres last year.

Production of all hay at 7,236,000 tons is below the record high of 7,999,000 tons last year, but the second largest on record.

More Showery Weather Expected

On Saturday the plains states, Gulf states, and east coast can expect showers and thundershowers. It will continue hot and humid over the Southwest with temperatures again over 100 degrees. The Lakes region, Ohio and Tennessee Valleys and far northwest will have temperatures in the 60s. It will be warm elsewhere over the nation. It will be clear or partly cloudy over most of the U. S. except for some cloudiness over isolated spots along the Atlantic. (AP Wirephoto Map)

WNUCC Condemns C&NW For Action In Train Removal

Hay Springs, Neb. (P)—The Western Nebraska United Chambers of Commerce passed a resolution condemning the Chicago and North Western Railroad for removing trains 13 and 14 between Omaha and Chadron with only 2 days notice and before a mandate of the State Supreme Court could become effective under "accepted legal practice in Nebraska."

The chamber group received a report that the International Parks Highway Assn. had been told that the Highway 19 through Nebraska, would be considered for federal designation.

The State Railway Commission had granted the railroad permission to drop the trains, but the Save-The-Trains Assn., an organization of towns along the line, appealed to the high court and the Railway Commission had granted a rehearing to the association.

The western C. of C. group recommended and urged the association to vigorously press its charge of contempt of court against the Chicago and North Western in proceedings before the Supreme Court.

The chamber group received a report that the International Parks Highway Assn. had been told that the Highway 19 through Nebraska, would be considered for federal designation.

2 Lose Lives In Separate G.I. Crashes

Grand Island, Neb. (P)—Two persons were fatally injured in traffic accidents in the Grand Island area within 10 hours of each other.

Harry Frye, 43, Brighton, Colo. died after his semi-trailer truck was involved in a collision on U. S. 30 in Grand Island about 6 a.m. Friday.

Driver of a car involved in that car crash was Oscar Niemoth, Hall County treasurer. He was taken to a Grand Island hospital with undetermined injuries.

Cecil Dewey, 40, Brighton, a relief driver on the truck, was not injured.

Pinned In Wreckage Grand Island Police Chief Mike Gephhardt said the truck traveled about 100 yards after the crash, overturned and pinned Frye between the cab and a tree.

Five-month-old Dennis Ray Mohman of Wood River was fatally injured in a 2 car crash at a county road intersection 2 miles southeast of Wood River.

The car in which the child, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred J. Mohman, and another Mohman child, Linda Sue, 4, were riding, was in collision with a car driven by the Rev. Conley K. Hinrichs of Wood River.

The Rev. Mr. Hinrichs, Mr. and Mrs. Mohman and Linda Sue were reported in fair condition in a Grand Island hospital.

The accidents raised Nebraska's traffic death toll to 150 compared with 131 on the same date a year ago.

Buffalo Co.
Obligated For Patient Costs
... Court Rules

The State Supreme Court has ordered the Buffalo County District Court to reverse itself and render judgment against Buffalo County and in favor of Kearney County in an action seeking to recover maintenance costs for a patient in Hastings State Hospital.

Kearney County originally instituted the action to recover care costs of Emma Strolberg, a patient in the State Hospital.

The costs were paid by Kearney County, which contended these payments should have been made by Buffalo County.

The high court opinion said Emma Strolberg was a resident of Buffalo County in 1923 and that in that year she was placed under guardianship by Buffalo County.

In the same year, she was committed to Hastings State Hospital where she remained until 1933, at which time she became an inmate of the Bethpage Inner Mission Assn. of Axtell, the opinion said.

In 1947 she was recommitted by the oBard of Commissioners of Insanity of Kearney County to the Hastings State Hospital.

From 1947 until the time the court action was commenced, Kearney County paid for the maintenance of Emma Strolberg in the State Hospital, expending a total of $7,455.35, which the county sought to recover from Buffalo County.

The high court said it was clear Emma Strolberg was physically present in Kearney County for a number of years, but during that period was under the control of others and incapable, "within the meaning of the law, of changing her residence from Buffalo to Kearney County.

Therefore, the obligation to support and maintain her in the State Hospital was the obligation of Buffalo County.

Also, Buffalo County is obligated to repay Kearney County the amount which Kearney had paid for her maintenance.

New Names, Dates And Places

—well, let's see what the dawn brought with it in the way of news this morning — The general theme seems to be the same—guests, travelers, parties and one thing and another — but the names, dates and places all are different.

Our guests, for instance, are Mr. and Mrs. Ben James of Carlinville, O., who arrived in Lincoln Thursday evening. Mr. and Mrs. James will divide their time between their son and daughter-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Ben James—and their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Elche.

At the moment Mr. and Mrs. James are in Lincoln, but will soon be on their way to join Dr. and Mrs. James and their family at their summer cabin near Columbus. While Mr. and Mrs. James are in Columbus Mr. and Mrs. Elche and their daughter, — will be at Pelican Lake, Minn. — as a matter of fact they left Friday morning to spend a brief period getting their summer cottage in order for a later and longer holiday.

Mr. and Mrs. James, we were told, plan to go to Pelican Lake some time in August to spend some time as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Elche.

—speaking of vacations—just learned that Mr. and Mrs. Fredrick A. Reed have planned off to Alaska where, in Anchorage, they will visit their daughter, Miss Beverly Reed, who is on the office staff of Northwest Air Lines.

—various members of the young set have vacation plans, too—at least two young ladies we know already have put plans into action, and others will be leaving for camps here and there in the very near future.

Understand that Miss Jody Mason, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Mason, and her cousin, Miss Jerri McNutt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert McNutt, are in Allen's Park, Colo., where they are spending several weeks as the guests of their grandmother, Mrs. John G. Mason.

—a masculine foursome, including J. D. Ayres, Eric Swanson, Tommy Edwards and John Hoover, is looking forward to July 20—the day they report in at Camp White Earth, Wauben, Wis.

And while we are sending the young men off to camp we may as well mention another member of the Mason family—Jim—who already is at Camp Mohawk, Rhineland, Wis.

Murray Jett, Mrs. Herman Tide and Mrs. Edward Veiluv are hostesses at a punch party at the home of Mrs. Jett. Twenty guests were invited.

—people moving from here to there reminds us that we have a new address for Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Anderson. Mr. and Mrs. Anderson, former Kimballcrest residents, now are residing at 1616 So. 58th St., in the Park Manor area.

And last Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. Anderson were given a surprise housewarming when 12 of their friends arrived with supper food—and a housewarming gift.

—from Larado, Tex., comes news that will be of interest in Lincoln this morning—It has to do with the arrival of John Thomas Campbell on Tuesday, July 1. The baby is the son of Lt. and Mrs. James Campbell, and his mother is the former Harriet Wenke, daughter of Judge Adolph Wenke of Lincoln.

—hear that Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Deurmeyer and their son, Stephen, will be returning home on Sunday from California where they have been vacationing in the San Francisco area.

Dear Abby . . .

Learn Some Fast Stepping! Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My husband used to tell me that he had to sleep in another room because my snoring kept him awake at night. Like a fool I believed him until a friend of mine told me that she saw my husband out one night in a little town near here, folkdancing until two o'clock in the morning. I stayed up four nights and nothing happened, but on Friday night after he went to bed I heard him take the screen off, and caught him climbing out the window, all dressed up. We had a big fight about this, but he won't admit a thing. How can I get him to confess?

CAUGHT HIM
DEAR CAUGHT HIM: What is there to confess? If he is so crazy about folkdancing—learn how, and go with him. P. S. Get him back in your bedroom, too.

To Entertain

Members of the Sigma Kappa sorority Mothers Club will be honored guests Saturday morning when Mrs. John Binning will entertain at a 10:30 o'clock coffee at her home.

The guests will include Sigma Kappa Alumnae as well as Mothers Club members, and coming from out of town will be Mrs. LaVelle Swarts of Eagle, and Miss Patricia O'Brien of Omaha.

DEAR ABBY: Do you think it's all right for a boy to ask a girl for her measurements?

DIXIE
DEAR DIXIE: Not unless he's knitting her a sweater.

DEAR ABBY: If people complain about eating around dogs they should have had my experience at a counter in a snack-fountain yesterday. A lady came in and sat beside me on the fountain stool and ordered a glass of milk. She had a bag of fig bars in a sack, so she ate them with the milk. The seeds must have got under her plates because she took them out (uppers and lowers) and proceeded to wash her plates in her glass of drinking water. Did you, Dear Abby, ever hear of a dog taking out his store teeth and washing them in a glass of water? Some people are disgusting!

DEAR ABBY: Do you suppose there is something the matter with me? I've got two fellows who want to marry me, but I don't care for either of them. My mother is having a fit. She says, "Name me one thing that is wrong with either of them!" And, Abby, I can't name one thing wrong with either of them but I don't want to marry them. I am 22 years old have a good job and am not worried about being an old maid, but my mother is driving me crazy. Please tell me what to do?

NOT READY

DEAR NOT: Your mother had the privilege of picking out ONE husband in the family—hers. Tell her you'd like the same privilege and not to rush you.

DEAR ABBY: I have been going out with a boy whose mother has been in the State Mental Hospital. She doesn't like me because she thinks I am taking her son away from her. I am very much in love with him and we want to get married, but his mother is always butting in. She treats her son like he was her husband (she is widowed) and he is good to her because he's her only child. What I want to know is this. If we do get married, can we send her back, would we need any signatures or the word of a doctor?

META
DEAR META: A State Mental Hospital is NOT set up for the convenience of people who feel their relatives are in the way. An ex-mental patient is sent back to the hospital only if the examining doctor recommends it. Your obvious selfishness and lack of understanding makes you a poor candidate for marriage.

DEAR ABBY: I am 17 years old and have been going with this fellow for two months now. I like him a real lot. He's everything you'd want in a boy but is a wet kisser. I can't stand wet kisses. How can I tell him politely I don't like it?

SOAKED
DEAR SOAKED: Tell him, honestly, that you like to be kissed occasionally, but you'd rather be left high and "dry."

If you have a problem, write to Abigail Van Buren in care of this paper. She will be glad to answer your letter. For a personal reply, please enclose a stamped self-addressed envelope.

Was Bride On Friday

MRS. VERNON MARES

With only members of the immediate families attending the ceremony, the marriage of Miss Jeanne Lee Stolley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Stolley, to Vernon Mares, son of Edward Mares and Mrs. Otto Petersen, both of Lincoln, took place on Friday evening, July 11, at the Havelock Christian Church. The 7:30 o'clock service was solemnized by the Rev. Merlin F. Dana, and the wedding music was played by Miss Mary Walters, organist.

Miss Lois Stolley, as her sister's maid of honor and only attendant, appeared in a frock of pink taffeta designed with a portrait neckline in the fitted bodice, and a bouffant skirt accented with alternating panels of pastel and deep pink taffeta. She carried a bouquet of red roses.

Leonard Monroe served Mr. Mares as best man. The bride chose a gown of embossed white cotton for her wedding. The fitted bodice, fashioned with a portrait neckline, narrowed to a cummerbund of tucked organza which extended into wide, back panels that drifted to the hem of the waltz-length skirt. A crown of seed pearls and sequins held in place her veil of illusion, and she carried a bouquet of red roses. Following a reception for 200 guests, Mr. Mares and his bride left for a short honeymoon trip. Upon their return they will reside at 1301 High St.

$161,000 Fund For First Christian

... Church Drive

A 3-year fund campaign for the new First Christian Church sanctuary was reported completed at the annual church meeting.

About $161,000 was raised in the campaign. Memorial gifts resulted in $13,000, leaving not more than $60,000 of indebtedness, according to the Rev. Charles L. Wilson, pastor. The total fund necessary is $231,000.

The new sanctuary, which is located at 16th and K, will seat 500 when completed. It is about 1-3 constructed now and may be ready for Christmas, the Rev. Mr. Wilson said.

A new budget of $55,000 was set for the coming year at the Board meeting.

New board officers, to be installed Sunday morning, are: Louis Arth, chairman; Henry Hinsley, vice chairman and Roger Thomas, secretary.

Don Gerhart, chairman of the building committee, reported on the new sanctuary. Printed reports on fellowship, evangelism, world outreach, stewardship, education and worship were also presented at the meeting.

He's Going Home

London (P) — Reassured by letters from his sister in the Soviet Union, a former Red Army soldier has finally decided to go home. A. T. Boitschenko was liberated from his German captors in World War II and settled down as a miner at Coventry, fearful of going home because of what he'd heard about Stalinism. Now he feels it's safe, reports he's been treated kindly in Britain, and says the Soviet Embassy is helping pay the fare.

Competition

St. Louis, Mo. (UPI) —Police tried to compete with small fry in lucrative business of picking up $400 worth of loose change.

The money was scattered all over the landscape when a car owned by a man in the coin-machine business hit a light pole. County police did their best to recover the hundreds of nickels, dimes and quarters, and so did the local youngsters. The adults ended up $140 short.

Employee Retirement Plans And Our Common Trust Fund

The great increase in pension and profit-sharing plans is one of the major business and social advances of recent years. Millions of American workers and their families will benefit. They are good for employee, employer and public.

Mr. Employer, if you are considering a retirement plan, you are invited to avail yourself of our extensive experience. We have assisted many companies in developing various types of retirement plans for their employees. We administer many pension and profit-sharing trusts for larger as well as smaller companies.

There is a marked trend toward funding such plans through trust funds. By far the majority of employees in the United States covered by funded pension plans are covered by plans funded through trusts.

The trust method of funding is the most flexible. The corporation can have broad discretion in timing its contributions. Thus it may make large tax-deductible payments to its retirement trust in years of large profits and high taxes and smaller payments under adverse conditions. It is sometimes possible to omit payments entirely for a few bad years without impairing the plan's soundness.

Pension costs under the trust plan are smaller than under other methods. Administrative costs are lower. Investment yields are usually higher. More benefits can be provided at less cost to the company.

While recognizing the advantages of the trust-type plans, many smaller companies have assumed their retirement trusts would not be large enough to permit sound investment and adequate diversification.

The First Trust Company can solve this problem and provide superior investment for smaller employers through our discretionary Common Trust Fund—the first and still the only Common Trust Fund in Nebraska. In the Common Trust Fund the resources of all participating trusts are co-mingled and each participates in all investments owned. Each participating trust thus benefits from an investment portfolio of several million dollars, broadly diversified among prime securities, supported by years of proven successful management. The Fund is also available for personal trusts. Remember, in Nebraska only The First Trust Company of Lincoln provides complete Common Trust Fund service.

We invite inquiries from every business executive who is considering an employees pension plan. There is no obligation, of course.

Our Common Trust Fund was established October 31, 1953

Braves Warned After Girl-Dunking Holiday

Los Angeles (P)—Milwaukee baseball manager Fred Haney, prompted by a wild party attended by 4 of his stars, assembled his world champion Braves Friday for a warning about the perils of Hollywood.

In a session at the club house before Friday's game with the Dodgers Haney told the team:

"There are a lot of people on the prowl, particularly girls. They are looking for publicity and will do anything to get it. I warn you to be careful."

The party, in which several persons got tossed in the pool, was last Tuesday night at the Bel-Air mansion of Warner Taub, a television producer.

Haney said the Braves present were 2nd baseman Red Schoendienst, 1st baseman Frank Torre, and pitchers Lew Burdette and Gene Conley.

Haney said he called the meeting to ask for an explanation. The party was while he was in Baltimore managing the National League team in the All-Star game. Haney said he heard there was drinking at the party.

Thursday night the Braves beat the Los Angeles Dodgers, 8-4.

The Braves manager gave this account to newsmen: "It was a private party on an off night when the players are free to do what they want. As it was explained to me, somebody—not one of the ball players—pushed the host into the pool and there was a lot of horsing around.

"Some good looking girl went by in a bathing suit and Torre said, 'You ought to be in the pool, too,' and gave her a push. Her boyfriend was there and he got a little peeved about it. Words were exchanged but there were no blows. Later the girl's boyfriend apologized to Torre."

Haney said Schoendienst, "a very level fellow," was player spokesman at the meeting. "I believe his account and will take no disciplinary action. I haven't even bawled them out."

Torre told newsmen a friend named Al Austin, an old school friend, invited him to the party.

"We went mainly to look over the place," he said. "We didn't know there was to be any party. It broke up about 11 p.m. and no one was drunk.

"Two of us were in swimming suits and 2 were not. Someone pushed the host in the pool, then someone else got pushed in. Then someone else pushed a girl in the pool. She was fully dressed."

"Someone came around to me and said, 'why don't you push that girl in the pool?' So I did. She had on a nice dress. Her escort was peeved because it was an expensive dress. We just exchanged words. I said I was sorry and we forgot the whole thing."

There were about 12 at the party, he said.

This isn't the 1st time Braves have figured in tales of partying. Two seasons ago, when the Braves blew the National League pennant in the closing week to the Dodgers, there were rumors that Manager Haney was having disciplinary problems with his players.

Jackie Robinson, Dodger infielder, hinted that failure to observe the training rules had had something to do with the Braves' late season slump.

Haney scotched rumors and innuendoes, however. He said that while his ball players sometimes got out of line they were only human, and on the whole they were a good lot. He said that training infractions had nothing to do with the costly slump.

Number Two For Mister Stu; This Time A Grand-Slammer

Rookie's Blast Wins For Bucs

Chicago (P)—Twenty-five-year-old rookie Dick Stuart, playing his 2nd major league game, hit his 2nd homer in as many days to lead Pittsburgh to a series-squaring 7-2 victory over the Chicago Cubs Friday.

Stuart, recalled from Salt Lake City of the Pacific Coast League just a week ago, launched his major league career with his 1st homer Thursday—a drive into the right field bleachers.

Friday Stuart, who blasted a total of 175 homers in the past 3 and a half years of minor league competition, including a record-setting 66 at Lincoln (Neb.) in 1956, drove a 5th inning serve by Moe Drabowsky deep into the left field bleachers with the bases full to highlight the Pirates' 5-run spree.

Two innings later Frank Thomas drove a southpaw serve by Bill Henry, 3rd Chicago pitcher, into the same left field seat sector for his 25th homer. The swat was Thomas' 3rd in 2 games.

Ron Kline scattered 6 hits and gained his 8th win—3rd since May 27. One of the Cub hits was Ernie Banks' No. 22 homer, a drive into the center field seats to open the home 7th.

Drabowsky, suffering a record-balancing 8th loss, set the stage for Stuart's grand slammer by yielding 2 singles and as many walks before Stuart delivered. The 1st run of the inning was scored on catcher Bill Hall's force play grounder.

Stuart walked with 2 out in the 7th before Thomas homered to lift Thomas' season total to 71 runs batted in. The Cubs picked up their 1st run in the 2nd when Moose Moryn tripped and scored on Dale Long's sacrifice fly.

'Cerv Night' Plans Grow

Current plans call for "Bob Cerv Night" at Kansas City on July 22 to be a gala affair, according to Maury Blum, chairman of the event which will honor the slugging outfielder of the Kansas City Athletics.

Cerv, a native Nebraskan and a resident of Lincoln, will receive numerous gifts, both from Kansas Citians and Nebraskans, in a pre-game ceremony.

Governors from Nebraska, Kansas and Missouri, along with many other dignitaries, will be on hand to fete Cerv.

The Boston Red Sox will meet the Athletics in the baseball portion of the program and it's possible that some of the pre-game show will feature a home run contest between Cerv and Ted Williams.

Blum said that some 600 tickets have been set aside for Nebraskans and can be obtained by writing to Ticket Office, Kansas City Athletics, Inc., Municipal Stadium, Kansas City 27, Mo.

Optimists Collect Win No. 11 By 5-1

Five runs in the 2nd inning carried the Lincoln Optimists to their 11th Legion baseball win of the year without defeat on the Antelope diamond

Friday night, downing Columbus 5-1.

Keith Sieck picked up his 4th win for the Optimists on a 5-hitter, and got a pair of hits including a double. His single aided in the 2nd inning explosion. Lyle Porter started the frame with a homer, and Bill Honnor's base-loaded double was the clincher.

The only damage off Sieck was a 6th-inning homer by Tom Ernst. Sieck walked 6, but left 9 stranded on the bases while fanning 12.

Con Keating, Columbus pitcher, was tough to hit, but 5 of the 7 Optimists' blows went for extra bases. Three of the runs off Keating were unearned.

The Optimists shoot for win No. 12 at 7:30 tonight against Ogallala on the Antelope field. The same clubs will meet again Sunday afternoon.

K-State's Parr Out Of Hospital

Topeka (P)—Jack Parr, Kansas State College basketball star, was discharged from Topeka State Hospital for mental illness Friday and was described as "perfectly well."

Parr, a Big Eight All-Conference cage selection for 3 years, was admitted to the hospital April 9 after becoming violent in a hospital room at the Manhattan school.

Parr told a news conference he is feeling very comfortable and that he would like to take it easy for awhile.

He agreed to a news conference, he said, because he believes "There is a value in people understanding that mental illness has a parallel to other illness and can be treated. It's like a broken leg, it just takes some time."

The 6-foot 10-inch Parr plans to take an apartment in Topeka and spend the remainder of the summer working as an auto salesman, a job he has held for 10 days. During that time he has been a hospital out-patient.

Parr said his plans are fairly indefinite but he wants to complete 18 hours he needs for a B. S. degree and possibly will take the work at Washburn University here.

Parr had been taking a pre-medical course at K-State but has not decided definitely whether he will go on to medical school, although he said it is a possibility.

He also said he has been considering playing professional basketball or playing in the National Industrial Basketball League.

"I feel I was very lucky to be able to come to a hospital like this," said Parr.

Lincoln had its 5th straight victory almost tucked away Friday night before kicking it away in the top of the 9th inning.

The Topeka Hawks overcame a 7-6 deficit by scoring 3 unearned runs in the final frame to whip the Chiefs, 9-7, before 1,051 fans.

It was a sloppily-played affair from start to finish, but the home folks were cheered by the fact that the Chiefs came from 6 runs behind to assume the lead in the 5th inning.

All 9 of Topeka runs were unearned, testifying to the misery of the evening. Both teams used 4 pitchers in the lengthy contest (2:53.)

Losing pitcher was Bennie Malcolm, who pitched fine ball for 66 frames in relief of starter Dick Lines and Ronnie Sheetz. But a pair of errors—1 by himself—and a bloop single cost him the game.

The same teams wind up the current home stand at Sherman Field tonight. Dave Wickersham (7-5) will pitch for Lincoln, while Jack Hannah (4-1) will go for the Hawks. Tonight's game won't get underway until 8:30 p.m. Trickster Jackie Price will perform before the game, starting at 8 p.m.

Lincoln started off the evening on a fine note as Lines retired the Hawks in the 1st with 4 pitches. But the ace of the Chiefs staff came up with a sore arm in the 2nd frame and the Hawks took advantage of his lobs to score 6 runs.

They were aided by 5 hits and a pair of errors, including a dropped fly ball—the 1st of 2—by rightfielder Dave Brennan.

Topeka starter Richie Jack returned the favors in the home 2nd, loading the bases on a pair of walks and yielding an infield hit before hitting Bud Pritchard and walking Malcolm to force in 2 runs.

Tony Washington socked a 2-run homer in the 4th, his 12th of the year, to cut the gap to 4-6.

A wild pitch and an error after Marcus Cobos' single, Brennan's double and a walk had filled the bases gave the Chiefs 3 runs and a 7-6 lead in the 5th.

Malcolm then kept the Hawks in complete check—he fanned 5 in a row in 1 stretch—until the 9th.

Pinchhitter Bill Reynolds got Topeka rolling in the 9th with a leadoff single and Malcolm walked George Bullard. Malcolm then threw wild on Clem Koshorek's sacrifice bunt, enabling the tying run to score and Pritchard's wild throw to the plate for the 2nd boot put Hawks on 2nd and 3rd.

Ed Bauta came in to get 2 outs, but Rudy Tanner tapped a nub single into left center field—Julie Javier almost caught it—which plated the winning tallies.

Javier, incidentally, equaled the Western League record for strikeouts in a game when he whiffed 5 times. Teammate Washington had set the mark on May 30th.

Catcher Joe Zavattaro, who was obtained as a relief man for Cobos when Nick Koback broke his thumb, has been sold to Grand Forks of the Class C Northern League. Koback has returned to work.

Topeka, by virtue of Friday night's win, moved into 6th place in the league standings. Lincoln remains in 3rd, 8½ games back of Colorado Springs and 4½ back of 2nd place Amarillo.

Boston (AP)—Jackie Jensen, Boston's Mr. Big, drove in 4 runs on a homer and single Friday that paid off in the 8th straight victory for unbeaten Boston right-hander Ike Delock—a 6-1 verdict over Chicago.

On his 2-for-4 performance, Jensen hiked his batting average to .319 and boosted his American League leading RBI figure to 76. He also paced the field in homers.

TEBBETTS CLAIMS PHILLIES HOLD KEY TO NL FLAG RACE

San Francisco (AP)—"The hidden factor in this bunched National League race," says Cincinnati Manager Birdie Tebbetts, "is Philadelphia."

The Redlegs' pilot added, "The Phils are a pretty rough club. They've got good pitching and Ray Semproch has been doing a great job for them. And Dick Farrell is going to stop any club if he goes in there with a little lead."

Semproch, a rookie right hander, has won 10 and lost 5 this season while reliever Farrell posts the lowest earned-run-average in the major leagues, a 1.17.

"With Ed Bouchee back, Philadelphia gets added hitting power for the last half of the race," Tebbetts asserted. He isn't counting his own club out of the race by any stretch of the imagination. Even though the Redlegs currently perch in the No. 6 spot, they were only 3½ games below the leaders and 1 behind the 3rd place Phils going into Friday's set. "Nobody has any right to look where you stand today," Birdie declared. "It's just how many games you are out. I think any club in the league can go all the way. Los Angeles may be 8 games back in last place but there are still 77 games to play.

"Sometimes a team could make up 8 games in 35."

He concluded, "I think you could make one statement that will cover everything and that is—the answer to the whole thing is going to be pitching."

Ortega Outmauls Mickey Crawford

New York (AP)—Gaspar Ortega, a lunging free-swinger from Mexico, roughed up slick Mickey Crawford of Saginaw, Mich., Friday night to win a split decision in a 10-round welterweight match at Madison Square Garden.

Crawford weighed 147½, Ortega 147. Crawford, who had lost only 2 of 24 previous pro fights, did his best to trade freely with his swarthy opponent but he didn't have the punching power to match the Mexican.

Cepeda's 12th-Inning Blast Bumps Red, 7-4

San Francisco (AP)—San Francisco's rookie first baseman Orlando Cepeda, returning to the lineup Friday after being benched for a rest, smashed a 3-run, 400-foot homer in the last of the 12th giving the Giants a 7-4 victory over Cincinnati.

Cepeda's climactic blast went over the center field fence scoring Daryl Spencer and Willie Mays ahead of him. The victory kept San Francisco ½ game behind league leading Milwaukee.

Both teams lodged protests in the 6th inning. Hank Aaron reached 1st on an error by 3rd baseman Dick Gray and Wes Covington singled, sending Aaron to 2nd. Then Frank Torre smashed a grounder past 1st. The ball rolled to the Dodger bullpen. The Dodgers claimed that a fan reached out and touched the ball and that 1st base umpire Frank Dascoli threw up 2 fingers, signifying a ground rule double.

San Francisco (AP)—San Francisco's rookie first baseman Orlando Cepeda, returning to the lineup Friday after being benched for a rest, smashed a 3-run, 400-foot homer in the last of the 12th giving the Giants a 7-4 victory over Cincinnati.

Cepeda's climactic blast went over the center field fence scoring Daryl Spencer and Willie Mays ahead of him. The victory kept San Francisco ½ game behind league leading Milwaukee.

Both teams lodged protests in the 6th inning. Hank Aaron reached 1st on an error by 3rd baseman Dick Gray and Wes Covington singled, sending Aaron to 2nd. Then Frank Torre smashed a grounder past 1st. The ball rolled to the Dodger bullpen. The Dodgers claimed that a fan reached out and touched the ball and that 1st base umpire Frank Dascoli threw up 2 fingers, signifying a ground rule double.

Stock Market Hits New Peak

New York (AP) — The stock market moved to another new peak for the year Friday and made its best advance in 2½ months.

The rise racked an estimated two billion dollars to the quoted value of stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange, based on the advance in The Associated Press average.

Pivotal stocks rose from fractions to about 2 points. Some selected issues did better.

Volume slipped to a moderate 2,400,000 shares compared with 2,510,000 Thursday.

On average, the market had now reached its highest level since Aug. 21, 1957, which was just prior to the sharp break of last fall.

It was a steady, glacier-like progression to better and better prices as the session wore on. A combination of factors was cited in Wall Street for the market's performance. Secretary Weeks' prediction of a "definite upswing" for the economy in the fall was one element. A pickup in sales at steel works and news that June steel output was the highest for the year also were encouraging. Mutual funds were reported to be big buyers in Friday's market.

Steels were early leaders and were joined by rails to give the advance a solid technical aspect. Aircraft, missiles and electronic shares were helped by more defense contracts. Oils, rubbers, farm implements as well as some motors and building materials did well.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose $1.60 to $177.10, its new 58 high, making its biggest jump since April 29. The industrials rose $2.20, the rails $1.80 and the utilities 40 cents, all components reaching new highs for the year.

Of 1,171 issues traded, 672 rose and 247 fell. There were 81 new highs for the year and 3 new lows.

Ten of the 15 most active stocks rose, two fell and three were unchanged. Prices also rose on the American Stock Exchange. Volume was 720,000 shares compared with 730,000 Thursday.

Summary Of 9 Constitutional Amendments On November Ballot Told

By Betty Person

Nine constitutional amendments will be placed on the November ballot for consideration by Nebraska voters—7 of them have reached the ballot by virtue of the Legislature and 2 by the route of initiative petition.

In order to amend the state constitution, each of the proposals must, of course, have a majority of the votes cast, but more than that, the majority vote must represent at least 35% of the total vote cast in the election.

Legislative Council Research Director Dr. Jack Rodgers Friday released a summary of the 7 proposed amendments approved by the Legislature for voter consideration.

Each of the state's 43 senators will be provided copies of the summaries and each will be asked to explain the proposals to the voters in his district. All of the state's newspapers, radio and television stations also will be provided copies of the summaries to publicize the proposed amendments.

By Legislature

These are the amendments proposed by the Legislature.

1. To authorize the Legislature to establish separate juvenile courts.

2. To change the provision requiring that members of state boards and commissions which serve as the executive head of a department must reside in Lincoln, so that the members could be chosen from various sections of the state, not just persons residing in Lincoln.

3. To authorize the Legislature to clear property titles by releasing real property from tax and assessment charges unpaid for a period of 15 years or longer as may be determined by the Legislature.

4. To authorize the Legislature to extend the line of succession to the office of governor. The constitution now provides that the Lt. governor and then the speaker of the Legislature shall succeed to the office, but stops at that point. If all 3 should become incapacitated, under existing provisions Nebraska would be without a chief executive until the next election.

5. To allow the Legislature to determine the general management, control and government of all state charitable, mental, reformatory and penal institutions by changing the Board of Control from a constitutional to a statutory agency.

6. To increase salaries of the state legislators from the present $872 per year to $1,744 per year to make them more nearly commensurate with present economic conditions.

7. To allow municipalities to acquire and lease real and personal property to industrial and manufacturing concerns, upon authorization of the Legislature, and finance the cost of such projects through the issuance of revenue bonds.

The issues voters will decide which arrive on the ballot following sponsorship through initiative petitions are:

8. An amendment to legalize the playing of bingo. The proposed amendment was sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the Fraternal Order of Eagles.

9. To establish, through the constitution, "in lieu of tax" payments by public power districts. The proposal calls for payment of a 5% tax on the gross revenue from the sale of electricity sold in incorporated cities and villages at retail by public power districts. The amendment was sponsored by Consumers Public Power District and the Omaha Public Power District.

Crosby Heads Legislative Chamber Post

The Lincoln Chamber of Commerce has added a legislative committee to its group of standing committees as "the latest development in its growing concern with legislative matters of the nation, city and state."

Crosby

Former Governor Robert B. Crosby was named to head the committee, whose function will be largely strategic and anticipatory. The committee will attempt to decide in advance which bills expected to be introduced in the Legislature are of interest to Lincoln as a whole. The committee will then decide which bills the Chamber should consider for policy decision adoptions.

The committee will meet before the 1959 Unicameral convenes, Chamber President Harold F. Hoppe said, and make a study of the bills expected to be introduced. Each bill will be studied for possible Chamber action during the session.

The Chamber will continue to have its state and national affairs co-ordinators, however. Robert Perry heads the state co-ordinating committee, while Albert Held is chairman of the national group. Robert Guenzel heads the local group. The chairman will serve on the new legislature committee.

On the committee headed by Crosby are:
